

Now Until Forever

By Matt Panetta

Subconscious fears abduct our rewards of infancy,
Where innocence lies between the realm of reality and a blissful dream.
All unexplainable mysteries will be answered,
On the night we take ourselves upon the world of the unknown.

Beyond the enchanted gates of love,
She smiles through the breaking clouds,
Which awake us from this ancient dismay;
These years are why the songbird sings beneath the gentle moon.

Who are we of flesh?
Nothing but a breathing magnum.
Take us to the hour of revolution,
Where the divine fulfill premonitions of faithful unity.

Let everything around you ease,
And be focused in your mind;
We'll be guided away from these misfortunes.

Together, living in eternal ecstasy,
We dance around the eternal flame;
Now until forever.
