

Words

By Shelby Thomas

I live inside your words
Because I cannot find my own
They come out rattled and unclear
In your words I understand
I can relate
It's what my mouth wishes to speak
Yet, I am silent,
I remain a mute
When I try
I stutter, I ramble
It's far from clear
Lacking grace and dignity
I use your words to speak
Hide inside the letters
Inside the words
Put together just like lovers
In sink,
In perfect harmony

© 2011 Shelby Thomas